

Something in it for Spouses

Tuesday, September 25th
Grand Traverse Resort

MASA's
2007 New Superintendents'
Conference welcomes spouses with two great events

What Superintendency Means for Spouses

Join other spouses of new superintendents Tuesday, September 25th, for a session focusing on what to expect and how to successfully manage a family's role in this position. This casual get-together will explore topics such as:

- The challenges and benefits of superintendency.
- How do we handle press and media?
- What kind of schedule might we expect?
- The impact on kids.
- Tips on how to handle the spotlight.
- Where can I go with questions?

Hosted by Virginia Rezmierski (wife of MASA President Len Rezmierski), Gail Green (wife of MASA Past President Rod Green), and Karen Mayes (wife of MASA Executive Director William Mayes).

Look for details on time and location at the registration table at the New Superintendents' Conference.

Tuesday Evening Reception

Relax at the day's end while enjoying dinner and company at a Tuesday evening reception hosted for MASA's newest superintendents.

Meet members of MASA staff, leadership, superintendents, and their spouses on beautiful Mission Peninsula. 5:30pm - 8:00pm.

Shuttle transportation will be available to and from the reception. Buses will depart the Grand Traverse Resort lobby at 5:30pm.

And don't miss the Stained Glass Workshop Thursday (9/27) from 1:30pm - 3:00pm in Peninsula A/B during the Fall Conference.

(Please RSVP to 517.327.9261, ddick@gomasa.org.)

Please contact the MASA office with any questions at 517.327.5910 or ddick@gomasa.org.